

SWR WEEKLY

Striving for Excellence Together

It has been a lively and inspiring week across the school community. Our annual Science Week filled classrooms and corridors with curiosity, creativity and hands-on discovery. A huge thank you to Mrs Tall and her team, whose hard work and imagination brought an abundance of exciting science-related activities to life for our students.

We were also delighted to welcome Year 7 parents into school for Parents' Evening. It was a pleasure to share the progress, enthusiasm and growing confidence of our newest year group, and we truly value the strong partnerships that support their learning.

Last weekend's PGL Netball Trip was a fantastic success. Every girl who attended demonstrated our core values of aspiration, resilience and collaboration, both on and off the court. Their teamwork, determination and positivity made the trip a memorable experience for all involved.

A special congratulations goes to our Year 11 band, The Deep End, who took part in the Tetbury Goods Shed Battle of the Bands and proudly won. Their talent, dedication and stage presence shone through, and they represented themselves and the school brilliantly.

We are also incredibly proud of all the Year 11 students who completed their practical food exams over the last few weeks. There are certainly some budding chefs among them—the quality of the dishes was outstanding, and they tasted just as good as they looked.

Looking ahead, next week we launch our Egg-tastic Attendance challenge. To be in with a chance of winning a prize—and to be entered into the big egg prize draw—students will need to be in school every day for the next fortnight. We're excited to see excellent attendance and lots of enthusiasm as the challenge gets underway.

Have a lovely weekend,

Mrs. Lynham

WORLD BOOK DAY

SWR fully embraced World Book Day last week, with tutor quizzes, library competitions and our SWR Big Book Swap taking place across the school.

Students and staff also got into the spirit by dressing as their favourite book characters, with Best Dressed awards to be announced in upcoming house assemblies.

Quiz winners from Mrs Mustoe's challenges were rewarded with some well-earned sweet treats.

Thank you to everyone who took part and helped make it such a great day celebrating books and reading
